The largest crowd of the season attended the ball game Sunday between Sikeston and Frisco of Memphis. In order to permit the Frisco players catch their train at 6:00 o'clock, but seven innings were played with the score 5-4 in favor of Frisco. No telling what Sikeston would have done with two more showings at the bat. As it now stands, the teams have won one game each and a championship game will be played at Sikeston Sunday, August 17, at which time a special train will be run from Memphis bearing a great many Frisco employees, who will root for their favorites.

The coming Sunday, Sikeston will go to Cape Girardeau to play the Capahas, the Sunday following July 27, Sikeston will go to Anna, Ill., to play the strong Anna team.

No date for August 3 has been made, but will be played away from home as the Golf Club will use the grounds on that date. August 10, Manager Malone expects to have a game on the home grounds.

It is hoped a large number of fans will go with the team to Cape Girardeau and to Anna.

FOSTER BRUTON FUNERAL WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

A large concourse of friends of the C. F. Bruton family attended the funeral of Foster Bruton at the family home Wednesday morning.

The funeral sermon was delivered by Elder Hensley of Flat River, former pastor of the Christian church in this city and was a fitting tribute to the departed and those to follow. Mrs. Honora Bailey Fink rendered a beautiful song, after which a feeling prayer was offered by Elder Hensley.

Mounds of flowers sent by friends and acquaintances testified to the high esteem in which Foster and his parents were held in the community.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS TO ENTERTAIN WITH BARBECUE

The Men's Bible Class of the M. E. Church will hold their third annual barbecue at the Malone Park Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock. This event is being looked forward to with much pleasure in mind. The past two years it has been among the most successful things that the class has undertaken. It tends to bring out the old members along with the new. One of those in charge told The Standard reporter that they were expecting a crowd of about three hundred.

The evening will be spent in eating, which will be free to those who attend, by the presentation of a musical program and by a few five-minute talks. The guests are assured that the evening will be one of the most agreeable of the present season.

EARLY HEARING IN THE MUNICIPAL BOND CASE

Attorney Benj. Charles of St. Louis, in behalf of the City of Sikeston in the municipal bond issue, appeared before Supreme Court Judge, W. T. Ragland at Jefferson City, Monday, and was given ten days to prepare his brief and file it with the State Auditor showing why the Auditor should register the bonds.

The Attorney-General, Mr. Shartel, on behalf of the State Auditor, was given 15 days from the time Mr. Charles filed his brief, to answer same.

Justice Ragland informed Mr. Charles the Sikeston case would be immediately assigned.

If Attorney-General Shartel finds nothing wrong with the election or the bonds, the case will not be given a hearing, but would end the litigation and Sikeston could ask for bids on the municipal light and power plant at an early date.

SIKESTON DANCING CLASS PROGRESSING

Dancing talent in and around Sikeston seems to be rather plentiful, according to Miss Effie Rycker, the instructor of the local dancing class. Her results seem to stand behind the above. If you would chance to drop in and observe one of the classes in dancing you would see many things of interest.

To date, Miss Rycker has about twenty-four students from Sikeston and the smaller towns. She also teaches a class in East Prairie. Her Sikeston classes are held every Wednesday. In the morning she gives her time to the general class and in the afternoon her attention is shared among those who are interested in private lessons.

At this time she teaches ballet, toe and tap dancing. Some of her students are taking a bit of all of them until they find themselves and then they will take a more detailed study of that which they are best suited. At this time there are several of the girls in the advanced course of toe dancing. Along with the lesson in dancing the students may study expression and some of them are doing well at it.

Miss Rycker is a graduate of the Indianapolis School of Dancing and has had a great deal of experience on the stage. She came to East Prairie from that city.

In September when the fall class opens the instructor expects to have a class for those wishing to learn ball room dancing.

The class is planning to put on a dance recital some time toward the latter part of the summer.

Miss Virginia Belle Eastwood of Caruthersville is the guest of her cousin, Miss Ernestine Moffatt in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Feinberg and family of Portageville, M. Borkwitz of Portageville and Phil Feinberg of Blytheville, Ark., visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lambert, Sunday.

THIS YEAR'S WHEAT OF HIGH GRADE

The 1930 wheat crop may not have been the largest that Southeast Missouri has produced, but it graded higher than any crop has in many a day, so a Standard reporter was told by one of the Scott County Milling Company officials. A little over 80 per cent of the wheat that has been stored in the elevators of the local milling company has been of the No. 1 grade. This speaks for itself that soil of the swamps is still fruitful.

With reference to acreage, this section had about the same this year as it had last, however, the difference came in the increased yield. With the scientific farming that is now being carried on in Southeast Missouri, the farmers will always raise some wheat, this is in accordance to the theory of crop rotation. However, it is supposed that the acreage will not be increased.

POPULATION OF MIS- SOURI IS 3,619,176

St. Louis, July 16.—The 1930 population of Missouri is 3,619,176, an increase of 215,121, or 6.3 per cent since 1920, tabulation by the Associated Press showed Tuesday. This is the largest gain in three decades.

Eighty-three counties lost in population while 31 gained. St. Louis city, St. Louis County and Jackson County, which includes Kansas City, had a total of 255,952. The figures do not include approximately 9000 names sent to Washington in an effort to bring Kansas City's population above the 400,000 mark.

For the first time in the State's history more than half of the population is urban rather than rural, with 1,849,168 or 51.1 per cent in 71 cities and towns of more than 2500. In 1900 only 36.3 per cent of the population was urban.

The census showed a heavy drift of population to the cities. With exception of several counties in Southeast Missouri, which have had an influx as result of land drainage development, nearly every county in the State showed losses in the rural sections.

NEW FIRE EQUIPMENT AT BENTON GETS TRIAL

Benton, July 15.—As its first task, the new fire engine recently purchased for this place was used one night recently to extinguish flames started in a pile of boxes and rubbish. The fire department in a demonstration conducted by E. B. Buchanan of Sikeston, representing the company from which the equipment was purchased, showed the use of the new chemical apparatus. The equipment was purchased with funds secured by the Lions Club.

Miss Letha Scott spent Wednesday in Paducah, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lindsay of Cape Girardeau were in Sikeston Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Lindsay is in charge of the remodeling of the Malone home.

SIKESTON SPUR NORTH SURVEYED

The State Highway surveyors have finished the spur survey north from Sikeston, a distance approximately of one-half mile. The spur slab follows out Kingshighway straight north, passing east of the Tally filling station and west of the Tally residence, and joins 61 at the south corner of the flying field.

The spur contract will be let at the same time the main contract from Sikeston to Benton is let and it is expected to have the slab poured beyond Klugg's Hill by late fall, or, perhaps, the entire stretch to Benton, provided, a real contractor with plenty of machinery is awarded the contract.

UNCLE-IN-LAW OF SLAIN FARMER UNDER ARREST

Dexter, July 15.—Louis Merrick, about 40 years old, was held in jail at Bloomfield today without bond pending further investigation into the murder of Sam Byrd, 39, whose bullet-riddled body was found in the woods in the little river bottoms east of here yesterday.

The body was discovered by Sheriff Fred Beal and several deputies who were conducting a search for the man after reports from members of his family that he had been missing since last Wednesday.

Merrick had appeared before the prosecuting attorney and sworn out a warrant for the arrest of Byrd, charging him with assault with intent to kill. Merrick told officers that he met Byrd last Wednesday and that Byrd took several shots at him.

When Merrick finally told the officers where the shooting had occurred, they went to the scene and found the body. It was in a very bad state of decomposition. Little River forms the eastern boundary of Stoddard County dividing this and Scott Counties. The body was discovered in the woods near a drainage ditch.

A coroner's jury was called immediately and investigated the case. It was found that the body contained four gunshot wounds, the jury deciding that Byrd came to his death from gunshot wounds at the hands of parties unknown.

Evidence uncovered by officers bore out the theory that Byrd and another man had engaged in a gun battle near the place where the body was found last Wednesday.

Merrick, who is an uncle of Byrd's wife, was placed under arrest and locked in jail for trial on charges of murder in the first degree.

Merrick has not discussed with officers whether he fired at Byrd, the officers said, and that part of the shooting still remains a mystery.

Byrd and his wife are said to be separated. She is in Cape Girardeau, according to information received here. Officers investigating the case say they believe trouble between the two men developed over the difficulties between Byrd and his wife. Surviving the victim, besides his estranged wife, are four children, the oldest being a daughter 14 years old and the youngest a boy 4 years old. They reside at the Byrd home. Merrick also is married and has a family, it was said.

The inquest was conducted by Clarence Powell, Prosecuting Attorney and Frank Utley, justice of the peace. It was not concluded until late last night.

Byrd's body was buried this morning at the expense of the county, near Bloomfield by C. O. Biggs, local undertaker. It was in such a state of decomposition that identification was made only by the clothing.

Officers today were trying to piece bits of evidence together in an effort to place the full blame for the shooting. They believe that within a few days they will have a complete net of evidence which will explain fully the battle which occurred in the woods when Byrd and his killer met.

Byrd resided on a little farm about two miles west of Tanner in the Little River District. Merrick's home is near that of the Byrd family.

Miss Alma Harris returned to St. Louis, Tuesday after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar White and little daughter returned to Sikeston last Friday, after having spent ten days in the Ozarks.

"I see in your paper where you made apology for what you said about the drunken Fulbright boy. If it had been some poor man's boy he would of been hung or sent to prison for life. Lots of boys would do better if given the chance He had. I think now you ought to apologize to the Preacher for the remarks you made about Byron Crane's funeral. I think you had better join the Catholic church so the Priest can pray you out of Hell when you die."
—A Reader.

The Republican candidates for Congress from the agricultural sections of the Central West, will have a hard time convincing farmers that the tariff and the farm board has helped them. Democratic candidates will have much the best of the argument and we don't believe the Republicans will carry a single county district in Missouri this fall.

And, furthermore, if Jim Fulbright is the Democratic nominee for Congress against Dewey Short, Republican, there will be no one work harder and vote oftener for him than will The Standard editor. If there be any Doubting Thomases as to our stand, this is this.

We are printing an anonymous letter received Thursday morning that is too good to throw in the waste basket. We wish to inform the writer that we had no intention of apologizing to Young Fulbright for what we printed was true, but we did wish to apologize to the father for connecting the young man's name with that of his father in the way we did. The father was not responsible for the escape of the son, but as a real father, stood by. Now, the young man has taken the examination for the bar and to drag up his past to injure he or his father was wrong, and that is why we apologized through the paper for trampling on the feelings of the father. We might say to the writer of the anonymous note that we would much rather join the Catholic church than the church the writer of the note belongs to, as we believe the Catholic priest in this city has more real religion in his big toe than this writer's preacher has in his entire body. And, again, we might be wrong.

Recently W. E. Hollingsworth, Ranney Applegate, J. N. Ross and Ralph Anderson attended a church meeting at Anniston in Mississippi County, on a Sunday evening. While yet in their car, a convivial native approached the car, observed one of the occupants more than the others, tipped him to the fact that if he wanted something to drink he could direct him to it. The native was feeling sociable himself and thought, perhaps, these good citizens were out for some of the same sort of entertainment. Now, the question is: Who was the man who looked most like a rounder?

Among the curious trees which have been found on the banks of the River Amazon in South America is one which has a sweet edible resin with the consistency of real sugar in the bark and another which exudes an oily substance with the appearance, taste, and other qualities of lard.

It has been twenty years since we left Washington City for the West and we believed we left behind a number of friends who would not forget us. One of them, Edw. S. Schmid, proprietor of an Emporium of Pets, where you can buy anything from a turtle to an elephant, remembers us several times each year with a letter, a card, or some printed matter pertaining to himself or his business. Schmid is 73 years of age, but is hale and hearty and is one of the most companionable men to be found anywhere. His friendship is duly appreciated by the editor and we trust he will be spared for many years to come.

They tell it that Ed Coleman and G. P. Van Arsdale were out fishing one day last week, when a cotton mouth snake bit one of the fishermen and instead of the fisherman swelling up from poison and dying, the snake swelled up from the old-fashioned snake medicine carried in the veins and died. We are not telling which one was bitten.

One sure sign that the Republicans have sensed defeat in this county in the November election is the sending to this county of an outside expert to organize a local unit of the Anti-Saloon League, and the great activity of a local Republican pastor in assisting in the work. When in grave danger of defeat, the Republicans always call all their allies to the colors. The Republicans are resourceful fighters, and will bear watching.

Murders, suicides, auto deaths, gangster killings, bootleggers, moonshiners, and the like, take the lead in the metropolitan press, followed closely by dissatisfaction among laboring people, merchants and farmers of the country. To be patient and live within ones means is the only thing we can think of for the laborer, the merchant and the farmer. It will take the army to correct some of the troubles.

Advertising, someone has well said, is simply business insurance. The business man who neglects it is inviting business competition and usually sooner or later it comes along and he either has to amend his methods or be forced out of business. We all know the story of the merchant who did not need to advertise—everybody knew where he was located and about the sort of goods he carried in stock. He got along fairly well until a fellow came along and put in a store quite similar to his only a few doors away, and advertised his goods regularly. The man who did not need to advertise closed up—his customers forgot all about him and the sort of goods he sold.
—Caruthersville Democrat-Argus.

A man with sixteen wives, according to the police, is held in Mexico City. He is Basilio Palencia, arrested for falsely claiming to be a brother of Jose Mijares Palencia, Mexican Chief of Police. The authorities said the alleged bigamist extraordinary married women in Tapachula, Chilpancingo, Salina Cruz and other places. Don't know why a man of that sort should be molested.

If money grew on trees, the trees would be stripped of their crop before some folks would find it out, and this is not personal either.

An impoverished peasant named Crescencio Avila, awarded a parcel of land by the Mexican government under its agrarian law, plowed his holdings for the first time Monday and unearthed a pot of gold. His find, which was of Spanish gold pieces probably buried long before the advent of the Mexican republic, was valued at $50,000. Hope some of our impoverished farmers will strike a pot of gold or two as it looks as though that is the only way they can live and pay taxes.

HYDE'S FARM RELIEF PROGRAM COSTING THE FARMER DEARLY

A late dispatch from Chicago says: American farmers face a loss of $1,125,000,000 in income this year with the slump of grain prices at new low levels, market statisticians now figure.

The enormous figure was based on the differences in prices now over a year ago for wheat, corn, oats, rye and cotton, the staple crops of the Nation which farmers depend on for money to spend on other commodities they are not able to raise.

"Wheat prices stood below a dollar a bushel this week in every North American market. On the Chicago Board of Trade, July wheat closed at 88 3-8 cents a bushel, a price comparable to the low marks at the outset of the World War. The mark was 31 3-8 cents below last year's price. Corn was 17 1-2 cents lower, oats 8 7-8 cents lower, rye 34 1-2 cents lower, New Orleans cotton was $27.10 lower.—K. C. Missouri Democrat.

CRUSHING ALL THE ROCKS
PILED UP ALONG HIGHWAYS

The attention of tourists in the Ozarks is attracted to piles of loose rock along the highway, nicely corded and on the highway right-of-way. These rocks have been taken from the road and piled there. It won't be long until a portable rock crusher operated by the highway department comes along and crushes the rock to be put back again on the highway. Where the roads are graveled, it is often that the road becomes rough and full of holes and it becomes necessary to scurry the rock, pick out all the loose rock and then gravel it.—Howell County Gazette.

CO 'K' MAKING READY FOR SUMMER CAMP

Preparations are being completed for the departure of Co. "K" for the annual camp at Camp Clark on August 2nd.

As usual, the Skeston Guardsmen will leave on a special train over the Missouri Pacific, which will pick up Regimental Headquarters Company, 140th Infantry at Charleston, then proceed via Bismarck and De Soto, where Co. "H" will join the detachment. This train will depart from Skeston about 2:30 p. m. Saturday, August 2 and is due to arrive at Camp Clark about 8:30 a. m. the next morning.

Camp training plans provide for some innovations for this year and included in these is a demonstration platoon, formed at full strength with selected detachments from each company of the 140th Infantry. At 11 o'clock each drill morning, this demonstration platoon will demonstrate some phase of instruction before the entire regiment.

First Lieut. Wade L. Shankle of Co. "K" has been selected by the regimental commander as the officer to conduct all demonstrations in extended order drill and advance guard formations.

During the early afternoons, the schools will be conducted along slightly different lines than heretofore. The subjects taught will be those which have a practical bearing on the training and in the weapons classes. Sergeant Weekley and Corporal J. F. Cox have been selected by the Regimental staff as assistant instructors, working under Captain A. D. Sheppard, who is to be in charge of this class.

Each afternoon when no regimental parade is scheduled, there will be a parade by one of the battalions. This will result in keen competition between the units of the regiment.

Some field problems have been prepared and these maneuvers will take place during the latter part of the period of the camp. First the battalions will function as units, then the entire regiment will conduct a problem.

On Friday, August 15, the regiment will hold a field inspection. Shelter tents will be pitched and all personal equipment will be displayed and carefully checked, and this inspection will be used by the board of officers to assist in determining the field efficiency of the regiment.

110th Engineers of Kansas City, will courses with their units, and the local troopers will fire the rifle, a selected group of auto rifle men and their assistants will fire the Browning automatic rifle, and those armed with the pistol will fire that weapon. More men than ever are determined to secure the coveted marksmanship badges which are worn on the coat of the uniform.

For the first time in years the 110th Engineers of Kansas City, will not be in camp with the 70th Infantry Brigade. The Engineers will leave for Camp Clark this week-end and well depart immediately prior to the arrival of the Doughboys.

In Camp Clark with the 140th Infantry will be the 138th Infantry from St. Louis and vicinity, the 35th Tank Company, 35th Division Headquarters Company and Headquarters Company 70th Infantry Brigade.

MORGAN TRIAL RESET FOR JULY 23

The Jack Morgan hearing has been reset for Wednesday, July 23 at Morehouse. As it will be remembered that Morgan is being held for the shooting of Byron Crain, Skeston athlete, on Saturday, June 7th, of this year.

It seems as though Justice is having a hard time getting started. This is the fourth time that the trial has been set. Heretofore, complications of one kind or another has prevented the court from taking action on the case. The last time that it was set to be tried, the Justice of the Peace failed to get the proper notification and was not on hand when the attorneys were ready to present their case. It seems as though the attorneys and the Justice of the Peace are having a hard time getting together on the issue, however, it is hoped that some action will be taken at this attempt.

Sharp and Baynes are defending, Gresham, Gallivan and Val Baker are doing the prosecuting.

Our 32nd Year in Charleston

In Comparison

Sam Rajotte closed a sale of nice bedroom suite yesterday with a customer who from what could be learned had visited every furniture store of consequence in Southeast Missouri, including Montgomery-Ward in Cape Girardeau. Our service in prompt delivery, taking in used items as part pay, etc. won the business. The same service that we rendered this good house-keeper in red hot competition is yours whether you visit other places or not.

Small Bargains

We have on hand some six or eight high grade Wilton rugs in small sizes which we have used as samples for selling large rugs. These articles have served their purpose in that respect and will be sold at sharp reductions to first callers.

Better and Better

Several screen grid models have been added to the Majestic line of Radios which are certainly beautiful in appearance as well as efficient in operation. Majestic folks have done themselves proud on the new cabinets and have also made some refinements in their wonderful coloratura speaker. Charleston remains in the Majestic column on Radios by a large majority for 1930.

Here for Thirty-two Years

The thirty-second birthday of this store arrives next month and while the wear and tear of those years is showing its marks on some of us, there is no slowing up in our desires or efforts to render a distinct service to this and surrounding communities by the distribution of standard merchandise. Many changes have taken place in merchandising policies since 1898. We have sought to keep up with the times and have received generous support from many people in spite of our many mistakes. Our present force is made up of men ripe in experience, yet full of energy and sincere in their desires to operate a store that will add to the reputation and progress of Southeast Missouri. We solicit further confidence and support during our 33d. year, promising to put in everything we have in energy and ability to make the store better and better.

There are many who are skeptical about the hereafter, and why, we cannot say. Foster Bruton, who passed away on his 28th birthday suffered much for forty-eight hours before death, but shortly before the end came, told his mother that he was all right, raised himself slightly in bed and remarked that he had about run his course. The doctor had not told him that he could not live, his mother by his bedside did not realize that the Death Angel had already appeared to her son, but Foster knew and recognized it. We feel certain that all is well with his soul for he had lived a clean life, and we feel certain that something beyond appeared to him that seemed bright and forgiving. This something that appears to many before death is the something unfathomable that should encourage us all to try to live right that this invisible something may be with us at the passing.

Our able assistant, Art L. Wallhausen, is spending a couple of weeks with his parents at Sweet Springs, Mo. The readers of The Standard will doubtless miss him as bad as the publisher.

Wonder if Ed Crowe, O. W. Chilton or Simon Loebe can tell us when Earl Carroll's girls will visit Cairo?

Mrs. McCormick of Illinois, who spent over $300,000 to get the Republican Senatorial nomination, stated to the "Lobby Committee" that no one could buy a landslide in Illinois. That may be so, but that much money might cause a landslide in most any State.

A trifle over two weeks until the primary election is over and we have an idea the candidates will be mighty glad. The successful ones will have a breathing spell before starting the general election campaign, and those defeated can get back on the job of struggling for bread and butter.

With a little more rain the past several days would have been almost perfect. The extreme hot weather of last week followed by the cool and pleasant nights of this week has made life worth living again.

If some of the patent medicines advertised for sale will take the grunt and tired feeling out of old folks, we know where a few bottles can be disposed of.

There must be a lot of unhappy couples in Dunklin County as there are one hundred divorce cases on their court docket for July.

There is but one thing that would keep The Standard editor from voting the straight Democratic ticket this fall, or any other fall, and that is for an Independent or Republican to run for Congress on a platform to modify the present Volstead law that might make it enforceable. We would prefer this to a man who is for the law as now, that has made it possible for so much lawlessness.

UTILITIES SHOW
WAY IN TEXAS TO ABOLISH TAXES

Denton, Texas.—The property owners' ideal of a taxless community is the vision held before this city of 9500 people.

Revenues from the municipally owned and operated utilities, including electric light plant and waterworks, nearly equal the total revenues at present derived from taxation. The city's financial experts indicate that the day is not far distant when income from the utilities will be sufficient to operate the city without taxes.

In the past four years more than $500,000 has been spent for permanent civic improvements, including a $100,000 city hall, and the city tax rate has been cut from $2.09 to $2 per $100, on a 60 per cent of actual valuation basis. The present administration plans to complete the civic improvement program before relying wholly on the utilities for operating revenues.

Major accomplishments of the city in the past five years, without a tax rise, or increase in total taxable value, and with one-third reductions in water and light rates, include, in addition to the city hall, the following: a $50,000 light and power house, two fire substations costing about $16,000 each, 17 concrete bridges at $25,000, a $55,000 Diesel engine generator unit in the power house, a $35,000 high school gymnasium and a $9000 athletic field, completion of several miles of hard surface paving for which the city's share cost more than $100,000, a hangar at the municipal airport, improvements to the water and sewer systems representing $70,000, purchase a county fair site.

The lighting plant is now capable of caring for the growing demand for electric service for several years, officials state. The net revenues from its operation hereafter will be wholly transferred to the city's general fund, with the exception of a depreciation reserve fund. The municipal utilities pay no taxes.

The electric plant is entirely unencumbered and officials plan to keep it so, though a financial house has made a standing offer to lend any amount up to $500,000, taking a mortgage on the electric system at 6 per cent for four years. With the exception of $25,000 in bonds voted 25 years ago and retired eight years ago, the plant has been built up from its own revenues to a value estimated at from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

Rates for utility service in Denton are declared to be lower than in any other Texas city of its size, and no charge is made for sewer service which, at rates prevailing elsewhere, would total about $17,000, it is estimated by W. N. Harris, city engineer.

Mr. Harris also points out that at present if the water, light and sewer systems were privately owned, the city tax rate would have to be raised 80 cents, or 40 per cent. This estimate is based on the service given free by the utilities which would have to be purchased if they were privately owned, together with net revenues from the systems. Maintenance of the sewer department is paid out of water and light funds.

Receipts of the Denton water and light department during 1928-29 were $171,692.50; operating revenues, $67,138.62. Of the net revenues, more than $40,500 was transferred to other city funds and the remainder placed in permanent improvements to the electric system. These revenues, augmented by a part of the revenues for the current year, provided for almost complete rehabilitation of the plant.

If you enter a telephone booth and see the word "ikonophone" on the wall instead of the regular nickel, dime and quarter instrument, you will know you are in a television booth, and if you watch the space immediately below the Russian sounding word, you will presently see a talking movie of the person you called. There will be no apparatus of any kind in the booth which is lighted by a dim orange light. A blue light which you hardly notice, shines on your face, and through a neon filled tube in the wall, the current is transmitted as a picture of you. Two-way television has become an accomplished fact.—St. Nicholas Magazine.

HOOVER OPPOSES
PURCHASE OF MORE
WHEAT BY BOARD

Washington, July 15.—President Hoover intends to let the Federal Farm Board deal with the wheat market crisis in its own way, without any intervention from him. Furthermore, he is in agreement with the board's judgment in refusing to buy a large quantity of wheat at this time for the purpose of stabilizing the price.

This was made plain at the White House today, after Senator Henry Allen, (Rep.) of Kansas, had asked the President to order the Farm Board to purchase immediately 100,000 bushels of wheat and after his colleague, Senator Capper, had issued a statement containing a similar appeal. No such order will be issued.

It was pointed out at the White House that the purchase of such a quantity of wheat by the Board probably would have no tendency to raise the market price unless the wheat thus purchased was destroyed, because the existence of the vast surplus in the hands of one buyer would remain a constant threat to the market, and the first effort to sell any of it probably would break the price.

Moreover, 100,000,000 bushels of wheat would cost about $85,000,000 and that expenditure would impose a strain on the Board's resources necessitating abandonment of its activities in many other fields.

It is admitted that the Board's previous efforts to peg the price by buying in the open market was a failure. It now has on its hands about 60,000,000 bushels of wheat for which it paid $1.15 to $1.25 a bushel. If this wheat were sold now the board would take a loss of about $25,000,000. Meantime it is paying storage charges on it.

Further large purchases of wheat by farm board agencies were also held by Secretary Hyde to be impracticable. After a conference with President Hoover, the Agriculture Secretary said he expected no change in the policies of the board toward the wheat situation at this time. He expressed the view that no government agency could continue to absorb successive surpluses.

It was the purpose of the machinery set up, he said, to absorb an occasional depressing surplus to aid producers, but, he added, successive purchasing of surplus crops would provide no means, or time, or place of disposition for the wheat held. He asserted the remedy lies in orderly marketing by co-operatives.

President Hoover was told today by Senator Capper, that purchase of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat by the Grain Stabilization Corporation would be a determining factor in relieving the crisis in the West. Capper said if the low wheat prices continued into the winter efforts would be made in Congress to revive the equalization fee principle which was vetoed by President Coolidge. Many persons in the West still lean toward either that or the debenture plan, he said.

Capper said he could not see that curtailment of acreage as advocated by Chairman Legge in the Farm Board would affect the immediate situation. He added he was interested primarily in emergency measures to relieve the present crisis as a result of the break in wheat prices.

Capper said he did not see how the government could lose by buying the wheat at the present price.

"I cannot conceive of wheat prices not going up in the next few months" the Kansas Senator said.

The Senator discussed the wheat situation for almost an hour with the chief executive. He said he found Mr. Hoover deeply interested in the problem and sympathetic with the plight of the wheat farmer. He expects to confer with Chairman Legge of the Board when the latter returns Monday.

An interesting development in the situation is a new tendency at the White House to place on Congress responsibility for the board's policies. As is known, the farm bill was enacted virtually in the form dictated by President Hoover, and over the protest of the farm bloc in Congress, which preferred the debenture plan. It has been customary to refer to the President's Farm Board, since he appointed all its members.

Recently, however, pains have been taken at the White House to emphasize that the board is operating under the terms of an act passed by Congress, and that hence its policies were laid down by Congress, and that if they fail, Congress will be blamed.

ELDER JOHN B. HUFFMAN WILL PREACH IN PARK SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Elder John B. Huffman, who for nearly 20 years was in the newspaper business in Sikeston, announces that he will preach in the stand in Malone Park Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night, July 19th and 20th, respectively.

Saturday evening his subject will be from the gospel of St. John, 13th chapter and 35th verse, "By this shall men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another." Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and also Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, he will preach at both services on what might be termed "The Signs of the Times" or "But as the Days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of Man be". Elder Huffman will show what is wrong with the country; that it is not prohibition nor licensed saloons or anything of that kind, but fulfillment of prophecy; that if we believe the Bible, we can see that we are living in the last days of the Gentile dispensation and the days prophesied before the coming of the Son of Man; that it is now just exactly as the Bible said it would be.

Evening services commence at 8 o'clock. He especially invites singers and musicians to come and assist in the meetings. Everybody invited and especially urged to come. All will be treated with equal courtesy. No one will be slighted. Come in your overalls or plain dress or in your finest apparel. God does not care anything about your clothes, but He looks down into your heart. God told Samuel, First Samuel, 16:7, "For the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart".

The Pentecostal Church of God, of which Elder John B. Huffman is chairman, have no church building and not even a rented house of worship in Sikeston, but they contemplate erecting a house of worship sometime before the first of next March, perhaps before January 1. The building will have a solid foundation and will be 40x60, with modern conveniences and well seated. People of all classes and denominations will be welcome at every service when built, and all sinners especially invited.—John B. Huffman.

GEORGIA METHODISTS REQUEST BISHOP CANNON TO RESIGN

The Quarterly Conference of the First M. E. Church at Newman, Ga., last week, passed resolutions demanding the resignation of Bishop James J. Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The action of the Church Conference in adopting the resolution asking the Virginia Bishop to resign is said to be the first time in Methodism that the laity has dared to attack a Bishop.

The following are reasons given by this Church Conference for asking Bishop Cannon's resignation:

First—"Irreparable evil done to the Church and cause of Christianity by his efforts to put the church in partisan politics".

Second—"Bishop Cannon's action as lobbyist and his evasion before the Senate Lobbying Investigating Committee".

Third—"Bishop Cannon's stock market dealings are calculated to bring the church into disrepute and lessen his moral influence as a leader".

There was only one dissenting vote on the resolution.

Bishop Cannon, Jr., of the M. E. Church, who is in Washington, D. C., declined to read the resolution adopted by the First M. E. Church of Newman, Ga., demanding his resignation and refused to make any comment when it was presented to him.—Ex.

ADMINISTRATION FACES REAL CRISIS IN FARM PROGRAM

Washington, July 14.—Suddenly, over the week-end, wheat has become the most disturbing factor in National politics. Realization of the political significance of the precipitate fall in wheat prices has struck Washington all at once, and today it threatened to crowd the naval treaty off the stage as a subject of interest.

With some farm organizations clamoring for the resignation of Alexander Legge, as chairman of the Federal Farm Board, and with Senators Allen and Capper of Kansas beseeching President Hoover to order the board to purchase 100,000,000 bushels of wheat in addition to the 60,000,000 bushels it already has in storage, the administration today faces a real crisis in its farm program.

Chairman Legge has stated positively, that the board will buy no more wheat at this time to stabilize the price, and has reiterated that the crash in prices, due to over production, can only be prevented by curtailment of production through reduced planting. This advice apparently has fallen upon deaf ears among the wheat farmers of the Middle West, where Legge and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde has conducted a barnstorming tour in an effort to popularize the administration's farm program.

During a week-end visit to the President's camp on the Rapidan, Senator Allen explained the situation from the viewpoint of the Kansas farmers, and urged that the board be directed to purchase 100,000,000 more bushels of wheat to take it off the market. A similar course had already been urged by Senator Capper.

It is confidently expected here that President Hoover will reject all such appeals. Any such order from him to the board would certainly result promptly in the resignation of Legge, and probably of other members. Furthermore, the policy of Government buying to standardize prices is obnoxious to the business interests of the country, especially those of the East.

The opinion now prevails here that the Legge-Hyde tour, however, admirable its subject, was a political mistake. Instead of calming the fears of the farmers it has provoked a series of demonstrations revealing a deep and bitter dissatisfaction with the results to date of the farm relief policy. Consequently, some of the party leaders now are urging Mr. Hoover to recall Legge and Hyde before they stir up any further commotion.

You Won't Believe Your Own Eyes!

Critics of the farm board blame it for the present condition of wheat prices. It is asserted that one of the main elements precipitating the price decline was the board's recent action in selling 1929 wheat which it had purchased during earlier stabilization efforts. The board explained that it would buy an equivalent amount of the year's crop.

ROBINSON SAYS TARIFF HAS FAILED TO HELP FARMERS

Washington, July 14.—Saying "the shadow of gloom still falls all over the United States", Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, expressed doubt today that the tariff and farm marketing laws would relieve the situation.

The Arkansas Senator, speaking over the National Broadcasting System, said a study of the Smoot-Hawley tariff showed it would fail in its "primary purpose" of resuscitating agriculture.

"There exists a widespread conviction", he said, "that the changes in the tariff law alleged to have been made for the benefit of agriculture, will, on the whole, work quite as much injury as it will bring benefit to the farmers".

He said the farm marketing act was still in the nature of an experiment, but added there was nothing to cause hope that it "will prove beneficial to the degree which its champions contemplated".

FARM BOARD MEMBER SAYS BREAD AT RETAIL IS TOO HIGH

Washington, July 14.—Samuel R. McKelvie, Farm Board member for wheat, said today he thought the retail price of bread was too high. Other board members recently expressed opinions the retail price of meats and fruits and vegetables should be reduced.

McKelvie said it made little difference in the retail price of bread whether the farmer received a dollar and a half or a dollar a bushel for his wheat.

"This subject is of vast importance to both the producer and consumer", he said. "The price to the farmer is too low. Therefore, if we can secure a correspondingly low price for bread and thereby enhance consumption of wheat, not only will we have benefitted the consumer but also some ultimate benefit may accrue to the producer".

MO. GAME AND FISH NEWS

With thousands of persons having already visited Missouri's State Parks since their 1930 official opening two months ago, the total number of park visitors for this year is expected to exceed the 400,000 persons who spent one or more days in the State playgrounds last year. The number of Independence Day visitors at the parks was large and these places will continue to be very popular until after labor day and even following that time those who have leisure will enjoy the parks until late fall.

Parks where the largest crowds have been in evidence include Big Springs in Carter County, Meramec in Franklin County, Montauk in Dent County, Bennett Spring in Dailast and Laclede Counties and Roaring River in Barry County. Alley Round Spring and Sam A. Baker State parks have been selected as desirable camp sites by many vacationists while picnicers have been making use of Mark Twain and Arrow Rock State Parks.

Kansas Citizens have been making use of Bennett Spring State park while Montauk, Meramec and Big Spring State Parks are each week luring hundreds of St. Louisians to the State's out-of-doors.

Turtles, which cause considerable loss to fish life each year, may be captured or killed in any manner excepting by use of traps which injure fishes. Plans for the construction of several different traps for free distribution by the Game and Fish Department. The soft shelled and snapper turtles are the best known forms of edible turtles found in this State.

More than 400 specimens of Missouri wild life have been prepared by Ernst Schwarz, State taxidermist, for use in the exhibits which the Missouri Game and Fish Department will have at five fairs including the State Fair at Sedalia, this summer.

USE BIG HOOKS SAVE SMALL FISH

If anglers would make a practice of using large-sized fish hooks thousands of small fish would be saved, the American Game Protective Association's observers report. It is illegal to take undersized fish. Besides, the majority of fishermen do not want small fish. They are put back into the water after they are taken from the hook. Many of them die from injuries.

Those fishing with worms, meat, or live bait should use a large-sized hook so the smaller fish cannot swallow or impale themselves upon it. It is the small hook that does the damage. Fly fishermen who use small hooks are not usually troubled with small fish, for they seldom strike.

Bakersfield, Texas, populated by 1200 persons in two weeks during an oil boom, has only a general store and restaurant left.

Game shot by North Carolina hunters in 1929 was valued at $2,000,000, the State Department of Conservation and Development found.

MILLIONS OF FISH SAVED BY WET HANDS

Millions of small fish may be saved this summer to grow into large fish if anglers will follow one simple rule—wet the hands thoroughly when taking little fish off the hook preparatory to releasing them back to the waters Carlos Avery, president of the American Game Protective Association, said here today. "Of course the small fish should be handled gently and released under water, not thrown back. A dry hand disturbs the protective film of the fish. If this is broken, fungi attaches to the body of the fish and eventually kills it. Thousands of anglers that have been wetting their hands, declare that millions of small fish have already been saved by this practice."

DITCH DRAINING FOR IRRIGATION SAKE

A new era of farming seems to be in vogue in Southeast Missouri. Due to the dry weather of late, several farmers of this region have gotten upon the idea of damming up the drainage ditches in order that they may have a little more moisture for their respective crops.

The general idea is just this, so one of the informed related to The Standard today. The ditch is dammed up by sand bags and the like and naturally the water rises. This raises the water line in the adjoining fields and the corn or other crops present are given additional moisture. This enables the crop to draw from the ground instead of depending on surface water for its supply of moisture.

If the ditch fills up enough to back the water up in the fields, the surface irrigation will be possible and that will serve the same purpose as a general rain, of course only a few will get the benefit of the dammed ditch.

This is being tried by several Skeston farmers and, so they think, will be somewhat of a salvation for their crops.

GEOLOGIST SPEAKS IN MALONE PARK TUESDAY

M. McCurdy, geologist, out of St. Louis, will make a talk from the band stand in Malone Park, Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock. His talk will probably be on the subject of "oil" in Southeast Missouri. While in The Standard office Tuesday, Mr. McCurdy stated there had never yet been a test well sunk anywhere in Missouri by a real oil driller and that large acreages in the State denoted oil. The same formation from Northeast to Southwest through all States from New York to Texas and Old Mexico was noted in Missouri. The Himmel well, Mr. McCurdy stated had never been sunk deeper than 1300 feet and was drowned out by the water which an experienced oil man would have shut off.

We are not advised as to the object of his talk, but it will cost nothing to turn out and hear him.

MISS DRINKWATER TO BE GUEST OF LIONS

The Skeston Lions Club are expecting Miss Drinkwater of Charleston to be their guest of honor at their regular weekly meeting of next week. Miss Drinkwater has spent a year and a half studying in Italy and is a very able and interesting talker. She was invited to attend the meeting of this week, but was detained elsewhere.

The Yard and Garden Contest has been slowed up a bit due to the extreme dryness of the past month, however, the Lions Club feel as tho' the progress that has been lost by the dry weather will soon be regained when the gardens are rejuvenated by a refreshing shower, if we ever get one. The selecting of the most beautiful gardens in the different classes has been deferred until a later date, in order that the flowers and grass may stage a come-back.

All members are requested to be present to hear Miss Drinkwater as she is referred to as a very interesting conversationalist.

The remodeling and the addition to the Dexter school system is getting well under way by this time. The remodeling is taking place at the high school. The old building is being remade into an auditorium and a gymnasium. The new addition that is being constructed at the high school will consist of thirteen rooms, twelve class rooms and one study hall.

The building is being constructed of red brick and the total cost for the new addition and for the remodeling will be around $18,000. The Standard was informed that it would be completed by the time that the school opened in the middle of the coming September.

The building is being done by Tom Nichols of Dexter, the plumbing by L. T. Davey of Skeston.

That is the estimated value of 22
alleged "estates" around which are formed scores of so-called "Heirs Associations" in many different parts of the country.

These associations are organized
for the purpose of pressing possible
legal claims to property located in the heart of New York or other popu-

presumed to be heirs have donated vast sums of money for many years
to these associations.

Recently two men in two widely

using the United States Mails in a

GREAT COLE BROS. CIRCUS IS COMING

The Great Cole Bros. World Toured Circus now on its 49th Annual Trans-Continental tour will exhibit in Sikeston Friday, August 1. Hailed with delight by the juvenile populace and the "older" boys and girls, the coming of this well known and honorably conducted circus is always looked upon as an annual festive holiday. Cole Bros., instead of operating two distinct shows as in other seasons have combined their interests for 1930 into one big, mammoth tented institution.

Features, novelties, curiosities and oddities gathered from all sections of the world form this season's program for the Cole Bros. Circus. Foremost among the stellar artists will be Crandell Troupe of English riders; the Perez-Lader family of Spanish equestrians and aerialists; Cadieux, a French somersaulting dancer on the tight wire; the Collings, Belgian mid-air gymnasts; Mons. LET'S STOP BEING SILLY

A few weeks ago the Better Business Bureau had occasion to gather together some evidence of so-called "super-advertising". Here are some of the examples:

"The Greatest Offering Ever Made in the History of . . ."

"Biggest Furniture Values . . . has ever seen."

"Greatest Sale Ever."

"Bought For Next to Nothing."

Such statements are not convincing and we doubt if they are effective. Some are amusing and therefore not so very harmful. They all occupied costly white space, which might better have been used to describe quality or utility.

The public is not too credulous. Readers discount such claims because they are unbelievable. As a consequence they question all advertising to some degree.

The advertiser who thinks he can deceive the public, not only deceives himself but injures his prestige and interferes with the rights of every other advertiser.

To be effective advertising must be believed.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY CAPE GIRARDEAU SHOW

Residents of Sikeston and this county will have an opportunity to "visit" the great plants of the Ford Motor Company through the medium of a sound motion picture to be exhibited in Cape Girardeau next week, Scott County Motor Co., local Ford dealer, announced today.

The movie will be a part of a Ford show to be held beginning Monday and continuing through Wednesday in a large tent on the lot at Sprigg & Themis Streets, Cape Girardeau. The show will be open to the public free of charge from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. each day.

Those who visit the show will be able to learn not only how the Ford automobile is manufactured in quantity production, but to obtain some idea of the vastness of the Ford enterprises, Earl Johnson of the Scott County Motor Co., pointed out. They will see how coal and iron are obtained from Ford-owned mines and transported to the plants in Dearborn, Mich., in Ford-owned railroad cars; how lumber is cut in the Ford forests and carried in Ford lake ships, and how in the manufacture of the car various by-products are utilized for making fertilizer, charcoal briquets, chemicals and other things.

Besides the motion picture, the show will include a number of special exhibits revealing step by step how various parts of the car are made, a cut-away truck chassis, and a Tudor body cut in half to reveal the details of its construction.

A feature of the show will be a display of the full line of Ford passenger and commercial cars.

Arrangements for the show were made by the local dealer in co-operation with Ford dealers in nearby towns and the St. Louis branch of the Ford Motor Company.

SOUTHEAST MISSOURI NORTHEAST ARKANSAS

The extreme hot, dry weather prevailing in this section has been unfavorable to all crop development. The mercury has registered above the 100 degree mark all week, with the high record of 112 degrees registered at Sikeston. Moisture is defient, being only about 62 per cent of normal, and the sub-soil moisture is as low as ever known in most of this section. Corn, hay, cowpeas, soybeans and all truck crops are suffering for rain. Cotton seems to be holding its own, but needs rain. The appearance of red spiders is reported in a few sections of Mississippi County, Ark., but as yet no serious damage has been done. No other damage from diseases or insects reported. The outlook for all crops except cotton is discouraging at this time.

SIKESTON BASEBALL GAMES ANNOUNCED

The largest crowd of the season attended the ball game Sunday between Sikeston and Frisco of Memphis. In order to permit the Frisco players catch their train at 6:00 o'clock, but seven innings were played with the score 5-4 in favor of Frisco. No telling what Sikeston would have done with two more showings at the bat. As it now stands, the teams have won one game each and a championship game will be played at Sikeston Sunday, August 17, at which time a special train will be run from Memphis bearing a great many Frisco employees, who will root for their favorites.

The coming Sunday, Sikeston will go to Cape Girardeau to play the Capahaws, the Sunday following July 27, Sikeston will go to Anna, Ill., to play the strong Anna team.

No date for August 3 has been made, but will be played away from home as the Golf Club will use the grounds on that date. August 10, Manager Malone expects to have a game on the home grounds.

It is hoped a large number of fans will go with the team to Cape Girardeau and to Anna.

FOSTER BRUTON FUNERAL WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

A large concourse of friends of the C. F. Bruton family attended the funeral of Foster Bruton at the family home Wednesday morning.

The funeral sermon was delivered by Elder Hensley of Flat River, former pastor of the Christian church in this city and was a fitting tribute to the departed and those to follow. Mrs. Honora Bailey Fink rendered a beautiful song, after which a feeling prayer was offered by Elder Hensley.

Mounds of flowers sent by friends and acquaintances testified to the high esteem in which Foster and his parents were held in the community.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS TO ENTERTAIN WITH BARBECUE

The Men's Bible Class of the M. E. Church will hold their third annual barbecue at the Malone Park Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock. This event is being looked forward to with much pleasure in mind. The past two years it has been among the most successful things that the class has undertaken. It tends to bring out the old members along with the new. One of those in charge told The Standard reporter that they were expecting a crowd of about three hundred.

The evening will be spent in eating, which will be free to those who attend, by the presentation of a musical program and by a few five-minute talks. The guests are assured that the evening will be one of the most agreeable of the present season.

EARLY HEARING IN THE MUNICIPAL BOND CASE

Attorney Benj. Charles of St. Louis, in behalf of the City of Sikeston in the municipal bond issue, appeared before Supreme Court Judge, W. T. Ragland at Jefferson City, Monday, and was given ten days to prepare his brief and file it with the State Auditor showing why the Auditor should register the bonds.

The Attorney-General, Mr. Shartel, on behalf of the State Auditor, was given 15 days from the time Mr. Charles filed his brief, to answer same.

Justice Ragland informed Mr. Charles the Sikeston case would be immediately assigned.

If Attorney-General Shartel finds nothing wrong with the election or the bonds, the case will not be given a hearing, but would end the litigation and Sikeston could ask for bids on the municipal light and power plant at an early date.

SIKESTON DANCING CLASS PROGRESSING

Dancing talent in and around Sikeston seems to be rather plentiful, according to Miss Effie Rycker, the instructor of the local dancing class. Her results seem to stand behind the above. If you would chance to drop in and observe one of the classes in dancing you would see many things of interest.

To date, Miss Rycker has about twenty-four students from Sikeston and the smaller towns. She also teaches a class in East Prairie. Her Sikeston classes are held every Wednesday. In the morning she gives her time to the general class and in the afternoon her attention is shared among those who are interested in private lessons.

At this time she teaches ballet, toe and tap dancing. Some of her students are taking a bit of all of them until they find themselves and then they will take a more detailed study of that which they are best suited. At this time there are several of the girls in the advanced course of toe dancing. Along with the lesson in dancing the students may study expression and some of them are doing well at it.

Miss Rycker is a graduate of the Indianapolis School of Dancing and has had a great deal of experience on the stage. She came to East Prairie from that city.

In September when the fall class opens the instructor expects to have a class for those wishing to learn ball room dancing.

The class is planning to put on a dance recital some time toward the latter part of the summer.

THIS YEAR'S WHEAT OF HIGH GRADE

The 1930 wheat crop may not have been the largest that Southeast Missouri has produced, but it graded higher than any crop has in many a day, so a Standard reporter was told by one of the Scott County Milling Company officials. A little over 80 per cent of the wheat that has been stored in the elevators of the local milling company has been of the No. 1 grade. This speaks for itself that soil of the swamps is still fruitful.

With reference to acreage, this section had about the same this year as it had last, however, the difference came in the increased yield. With the scientific farming that is now being carried on in Southeast Missouri, the farmers will always raise some wheat, this is in accordance to the theory of crop rotation. However, it is supposed that the acreage will not be increased.

POPULATION OF MISSOURI IS 3,619,176

St. Louis, July 16.—The 1930 population of Missouri is 3,619,176, an increase of 215,121, or 6.3 per cent since 1920, tabulation by the Associated Press showed Tuesday. This is the largest gain in three decades.

Eighty-three counties lost in population while 31 gained. St. Louis city, St. Louis County and Jackson County, which includes Kansas City, had a total of 255,952. The figures do not include approximately 9000 names sent to Washington in an effort to bring Kansas City's population above the 400,000 mark.

For the first time in the State's history more than half of the population is urban rather than rural, with 1,849,168 or 51.1 per cent in 71 cities and towns of more than 2500. In 1900 only 36.3 per cent of the population was urban.

The census showed a heavy drift of population to the cities. With exception of several counties in Southeast Missouri, which have had an influx as result of land drainage development, nearly every county in the State showed losses in the rural sections.

NEW FIRE EQUIPMENT AT BENTON GETS TRIAL

Benton, July 15.—As its first task, the new fire engine recently purchased for this place was used one night recently to extinguish flames started in a pile of boxes and rubbish. The fire department in a demonstration conducted by E. B. Buchanan of Sikeston, representing the company from which the equipment was purchased, showed the use of the new chemical apparatus. The equipment was purchased with funds secured by the Lions Club.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lindsay of Cape Girardeau were in Sikeston Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Lindsay is in charge of the remodeling of the Malone home.

SIKESTON SPUR NORTH SURVEYED

The State Highway surveyors have finished the spur survey north from Sikeston, a distance approximately of one-half mile. The spur slab follows out Kingshighway straight north, passing east of the Tally filling station and west of the Tally residence, and joins 61 at the south corner of the flying field.

The spur contract will be let at the same time the main contract from Sikeston to Benton is let and it is expected to have the slab poured beyond Klugg's Hill by late fall, or, perhaps, the entire stretch to Benton, provided, a real contractor with plenty of machinery is awarded the contract.

UNCLE-IN-LAW OF SLAIN FARMER UNDER ARREST

Dexter, July 15.—Louis Merrick, about 40 years old, was held in jail at Bloomfield today without bond pending further investigation into the murder of Sam Byrd, 39, whose bullet-riddled body was found in the woods in the little river bottoms east of here yesterday.

The body was discovered by Sheriff Fred Beal and several deputies who were conducting a search for the man after reports from members of his family that he had been missing since last Wednesday.

Merrick had appeared before the prosecuting attorney and sworn out a warrant for the arrest of Byrd, charging him with assault with intent to kill. Merrick told officers that he met Byrd last Wednesday and that Byrd took several shots at him.

When Merrick finally told the officers where the shooting had occurred, they went to the scene and found the body. It was in a very bad state of decomposition. Little River forms the eastern boundary of Stoddard County dividing this and Scott Counties. The body was discovered in the woods near a drainage ditch.

A coroner's jury was called immediately and investigated the case. It was found that the body contained four gunshot wounds, the jury deciding that Byrd came to his death from gunshot wounds at the hands of parties unknown.

Evidence uncovered by officers bore out the theory that Byrd and another man had engaged in a gun battle near the place where the body was found last Wednesday.

Merrick, who is an uncle of Byrd's wife, was placed under arrest and locked in jail for trial on charges of murder in the first degree.

Merrick has not discussed with officers whether he fired at Byrd, the officers said, and that part of the shooting still remains a mystery.

Byrd and his wife are said to be separated. She is in Cape Girardeau, according to information received here. Officers investigating the case say they believe trouble between the two men developed over the difficulties between Byrd and his wife. Surviving the victim, besides his estranged wife, are four children, the oldest being a daughter 14 years old and the youngest a boy 4 years old. They reside at the Byrd home. Merrick also is married and has a family, it was said.

The inquest was conducted by Clarence Powell, Prosecuting Attorney and Frank Utley, justice of the peace. It was not concluded until late last night.

Byrd's body was buried this morning at the expense of the county, near Bloomfield by C. O. Biggs, local undertaker. It was in such a state of decomposition that identification was made only by the clothing.

Officers today were trying to piece bits of evidence together in an effort to place the full blame for the shooting. They believe that within a few days they will have a complete net of evidence which will explain fully the battle which occurred in the woods when Byrd and his killer met.

Byrd resided on a little farm about two miles west of Tanner in the Little River District. Merrick's home is near that of the Byrd family.

Miss Alma Harris returned to St. Louis, Tuesday after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar White and little daughter returned to Sikeston last Friday, after having spent ten days in the Ozarks.

"I see in your paper where you made apology for what you said about the drunken Fullbright boy.
If it had been some poor man's boy he would of ben hung or sent to prison for life. Lots of boys would do better if given the chance He had. I think now you ought to apologize to the Preacher for the remarks you made about Byron Crane's funeral. I think you had better join the Catholic church so the Priest can pray you out of Hell when you die."
—A Reader.

The Republican candidates for Congress from the agricultural sections of the Central West, will have a hard time convincing farmers that the tariff and the farm board has helped them. Democratic candidates will have much the best of the argument and we don't believe the Republicans will carry a single county district in Missouri this fall.

And, furthermore, if Jim Fullbright is the Democratic nominee for Congress against Dewey Short, Republican, there will be no one work harder and vote oftener for him than will The Standard editor. If there be any Doubting Thomases as to our stand, this is this.

We are printing an anonymous letter received Thursday morning that is too good to throw in the waste basket. We wish to inform the writer that we had no intention of apologizing to Young Fullbright for what we printed was true, but we did wish to apologize to the father for connecting the young man's name with that of his father in the way we did. The father was not responsible for the escape of the son, but as a real father, stood by. Now, the young man has taken the examination for the bar and to drag up his past to injure he or his father was wrong, and that is why we apologized through the paper for trampling on the feelings of the father. We might say to the writer of the anonymous note that we would much rather join the Catholic church than the church the writer of the note belong to, as we believe the Catholic priest in this city has more real religion in his big toe than this writer's preacher has in his entire body. And,
again, we might be wrong.

Recently W. E. Hollingsworth, Ranney Applegate, J. N. Ross and Ralph Anderson attended a church meeting at Anniston in Mississippi County, on a Sunday evening. While yet in their car, a convivial native approached the car, observed one of the occupants more than the others, tipped him to the fact that if he wanted something to drink he could direct him to it. The native was feeling sociable himself and thought, perhaps, these good citizens were out for some of the same sort of entertainment. Now, the question is: Who was the man who looked most like a rounder?

Among the curious trees which have been found on the banks of the River Amazon in South America is one which has a sweet edible resin with the consistency of real sugar in the bark and another which exudes an oily substance with the appearance, taste, and other qualities of lard.

It has been twenty years since we left Washington City for the West and we believed we left behind a number of friends who would not forget us. One of them, Edw. S. Schmid, proprietor of an Emporium of Pets,
where you can buy anything from a turtle to an elephant, remembers us several times each year with a letter, a card, or some printed matter pertaining to himself or his business. Schmid is 73 years of age, but is hale and hearty and is one of the most companionable men to be found anywhere. His friendship is duly appreciated by the editor and we trust he will be spared for many years to come.

They tell it that Ed Coleman and G. P. Van Arsdale were out fishing one day last week, when a cotton mouth snake bit one of the fishermen and instead of the fisherman swelling up from poison and dying, the snake swelled up from the old-fashioned snake medicine carried in the veins and died. We are not telling which one was bitten.

One sure sign that the Republicans have sensed defeat in this county in the November election is the sending to this county of an outside expert to organize a local unit of the Anti-Saloon League, and the great activity of a local Republican pastor in assisting in the work. When in grave danger of defeat, the Republicans always call all their allies to the colors. The Republicans are resourceful fighters, and will bear watching.

Murders, suicides, auto deaths, gangster killings, bootleggers, moonshiners, and the like, take the lead in the metropolitan press, followed closely by dissatisfaction among laboring people, merchants and farmers of the country. To be patient and live within ones means is the only thing we can think of for the laborer, the merchant and the farmer. It will take the army to correct some of the troubles.

Advertising, someone has well said, is simply business insurance.
The business man who neglects it is inviting business competition and usually sooner or later it comes along and he either has to amend his methods or be forced out of business. We all know the story of the merchant who did not need to advertise—everybody knew where he was located and about the sort of goods he carried in stock. He got along fairly well until a fellow came along and put in a store quite similar to his only a few doors away, and advertised his goods regularly. The man who did not need to advertise closed up—his customers forgot all about him and the sort of goods he sold.
—Caruthersville Democrat-Argus.

A man with sixteen wives, according to the police, is held in Mexico City. He is Basilio Palencia, arrested for falsely claiming to be a brother of Jose Mijares Palencia, Mexican Chief of Police. The authorities said the alleged bigamist extraordinary married women in Tapachula, Chilpancingo, Salina Cruz and other places. Don't know why a man of that sort should be molested.

If money grew on trees, the trees would be stripped of their crop before some folks would find it out, and this is not personal either.

An impoverished peasant named Crescencio Avila, awarded a parcel of land by the Mexican government under its agrarian law, plowed his holdings for the first time Monday and unearthed a pot of gold. His find, which was of Spanish gold pieces probably buried long before the advent of the Mexican republic, was valued at $50,000. Hope some of our impoverished farmers will strike a pot of gold or two as it looks as though that is the only way they can live and pay taxes.

HYDE'S FARM RELIEF PROGRAM COSTING THE FARMER DEARLY

A late dispatch from Chicago says:
American farmers face a loss of $1-125,000,000 in income this year with the slump of grain prices at new low levels, market statisticians now figure.

The enormous figure was based on the differences in prices now over a year ago for wheat, corn, oats, rye and cotton, the staple crops of the Nation which farmers depend on for money to spend on other commodities they are not able to raise.

"Wheat prices stood below a dollar a bushel this week in every North American market. On the Chicago Board of Trade, July wheat closed at 88 3-8 cents a bushel, a price comparable to the low marks at the outset of the World War. The mark was 31 3-8 cents below last year's price.
Corn was 17 1-2 cents lower, oats
8 7-8 cents lower, rye 34 1-2 cents lower, New Orleans cotton was $27.10 lower.—K. C. Missouri Democrat.

CRUSHING ALL THE ROCKS PILED UP ALONG HIGHWAYS

The attention of tourists in the Ozarks is attracted to piles of loose rock along the highway, nicely corded and on the highway right-of-way. These rocks have been taken from the road and piled there. It won't be long until a portable rock crusher operated by the highway department comes along and crushes the rock to be put back again on the highway. Where the roads are graveled, it is often that the road becomes rough and full of holes and it becomes necessary to scarrify the rock, pick out all the loose rock and then gravel it.—Howell County Gazette.

"KONJOLA MADE ME LOOK LIKE MY OLD SELF"

So Says Grateful Lady Who Found First Relief In New and Different Medicine.

MRS. LAURIE BARHAM

What could be wiser than to follow in the footsteps of those who, to their everlasting joy, put Konjola to the test and found it the very medicine they needed. Consider, as a typical example of Konjola at work,

the experience of Mrs. Laurie Bar-ham, 4973 Odell avenue, St. Louis, who says:

"For the past three years I endured a nervous disorder and was in a sadly run down condition. I tried everything that I thought would help me but found no relief from anything I tried but before I had used two bottles of Konjola I could see it was helping me. I have used Konjola now for two months, and will say that I have had wonderful results from it. I have gained in weight, and Konjola made me look like my old self again. I cannot say enough good things about Konjola".

So it goes; victory after victory, when Konjola is given a chance to show again why seven millions of bottles of this medicine were used in two years.

Konjola is sold in Sikeston at the Derris Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

CO 'K' MAKING READY FOR SUMMER CAMP

Preparations are being completed for the departure of Co. "K" for the annual camp at Camp Clark on August 2nd.

As usual, the Skeston Guardsmen will leave on a special train over the Missouri Pacific, which will pick up Regimental Headquarters Company, 140th Infantry at Charleston, then proceed via Bismarck and De Soto, where Co. "H" will join the detachment. This train will depart from Skeston about 2:30 p. m. Saturday, August 2 and is due to arrive at Camp Clark about 8:30 a. m. the next morning.

Camp training plans provide for some innovations for this year and included in these is a demonstration platoon, formed at full strength with selected detachments from each Company of the 140th Infantry. At 11 o'clock each drill morning, this demonstration platoon will demonstrate some phase of instruction before the entire regiment.

First Lieut. Wade L. Shankle of Co. "K" has been selected by the regimental commander as the officer to conduct all demonstrations in extended order drill and advance guard formations.

During the early afternoons, the schools will be conducted along slightly different lines than heretofore. The subjects taught will be those which have a practical bearing on the training and in the weapons classes. Sergeant Weekley and Corporal J. F. Cox have been selected by the Regimental staff as assistant instructors, working under Captain A. D. Sheppard, who is to be in charge of this class.

Each afternoon when no regimental parade is scheduled, there will be a parade by one of the battalions. This will result in keen competition between the units of the regiment.

Some field problems have been prepared and these maneuvers will take place during the latter part of the period of the camp. First the battalions will function as units, then the entire regiment will conduct a problem.

On Friday, August 15, the regiment will hold a field inspection. Shelter tents will be pitched and all personal equipment will be displayed and carefully checked, and this inspection will be used by the board of officers to assist in determining the field efficiency of the regiment.

110th Engineers of Kansas City, will courses with their units, and the local troopers will fire the rifle, a selected group of autoriflemen and their assistants will fire the Browning automatic rifle, and those armed with the pistol will fire that weapon. More men than ever are determined to secure the coveted marksmanship badges which are worn on the coat of the uniform.

For the first time in years the 110th Engineers of Kansas City, will not be in camp with the 70th Infantry Brigade. The Engineers will leave for Camp Clark this week-end and well depart immediately prior to the arrival of the Doughboys.

In Camp Clark with the 140th Infantry will be the 138th Infantry from St. Louis and vicinity, the 35th Tank Company, 35th Division Headquarters Company and Headquarters Company 70th Infantry Brigade.

Brigadier General W. A. Raupp,

commander of the 70th Infantry Brigade will be the camp commander and Col. J. C. French, Inf., (DOL) who was formerly on duty with the 140th Infantry will be the Senior Instructor.

MORGAN TRIAL RESET FOR JULY 23

The Jack Morgan hearing has been reset for Wednesday, July 23 at Morehouse. As it will be remembered that Morgan is being held for the shooting of Byron Crain, Skeston athlete, on Saturday, June 7th, of this year.

It seems as though Justice is having a hard time getting started. This is the fourth time that the trial has been set. Heretofore, complications of one kind or another has prevented the court from taking action on the case. The last time that it was set to be tried, the Justice of the Peace failed to get the proper notification and was not on hand when the attorneys were ready to present their case. It seems as though the attorneys and the Justice of the Peace are having a hard time getting together on the issue, however, it is hoped that some action will be taken at this attempt.

Sharp and Baynes are defending, Gresham, Gallivan and Val Baker are doing the prosecuting.

We have on hand some six or eight high grade Wilton rugs in small sizes which we have used as samples for selling large rugs. These articles have served their purpose in that respect and will be sold at sharp reductions to first callers.

Better and Better

Several screen grid models have been added to the Majestic line of Radios which are certainly beautiful in appearance as well as efficient in operation. Majestic folks have done themselves proud on the new cabinets and have also made some refinements in their wonderful coloratura speaker. Charleston remains in the Majestic column on Radios by a large majority for 1936.

Here for Thirty-two Years

The thirty-second birthday of this store arrives next month and while the wear and tear of those years is showing its marks on some of us, there is no slowing up in our desires or efforts to render a distinct service to this and surrounding communities by the distribution of standard merchandise. Many changes have taken place in merchandising policies since 1898. We have sought to keep up with the times and have received generous support from many people in spite of our many mistakes. Our present force is made up of men ripe in experience, yet full of energy and sincere in their desires to operate a store that will add to the reputation and progress of Southeast Missouri. We solicit further confidence and support during our 33d. year, promising to put in everything we have in energy and ability to make the store better and better.

There are many who are skeptical about the hereafter, and why, we cannot say. Foster Bruton, who passed away on his 28th birthday suffered much for forty-eight hours before death, but shortly before the end came, told his mother that he was all right, raised himself slightly in bed and remarked that he had about run his course. The doctor had not told him that he could not live, his mother by his bedside did not realize that the Death Angel had already appeared to her son, but Foster knew and recognized it. We feel certain that all is well with his soul for he had lived a clean life, and we feel certain that something beyond appeared to him that seemed bright and forgiving. This something that appears to many before death is the something unfathomable that should encourage us all to try to live right that this invisible something may be with us at the passing.

Our able assistant, Art L. Wallhausen, is spending a couple of weeks with his parents at Sweet Springs, Mo. The readers of The Standard will doubtless miss him as bad as the publisher.

Wonder if Ed Crowe, O. W. Chilton or Simon Loebe can tell us when Earl Carroll's girls will visit Cairo?

Mrs. McCormick of Illinois, who spent over $300,000 to get the Republican Senatorial nomination, stated to the "Lobby Committee" that no one could buy a landslide in Illinois. That may be so, but that much money might cause a landslide in most any State.

A trifle over two weeks until the primary election is over and we have an idea the candidates will be mighty glad. The successful ones will have a breathing spell before starting the general election campaign, and those defeated can get back on the job of struggling for bread and butter.

With a little more rain the past several days would have been almost perfect. The extreme hot weather of last week followed by the cool and pleasant nights of this week has made life worth living again.

If some of the patent medicines advertised for sale will take the grunt and tired feeling out of old folks, we know where a few bottles can be disposed of.

There must be a lot of unhappy couples in Dunklin County as there are one hundred divorce cases on their court docket for July.

There is but one thing that would keep The Standard editor from voting the straight Democratic ticket this fall, or any other fall, and that is for an Independent or Republican to run for Congress on a platform to modify the present Volstead law that might make it enforceable. We would prefer this to a man who is for the law as now, that has made it possible for so much lawlessness.

WAY IN TEXAS TO ABOLISH TAXES

Denton, Texas.—The property owners' ideal of a taxless community is the vision held before this city of 9500 people.

Revenues from the municipally owned and operated utilities, including electric light plant and waterworks, nearly equal the total revenues at present derived from taxation. The city's financial experts indicate that the day is not far distant when income from the utilities will be sufficient to operate the city without taxes.

In the past four years more than $500,000 has been spent for permanent civic improvements, including a $100,000 city hall, and the city tax rate has been cut from $2.09 to $2 per $100, on a 60 per cent of actual valuation basis. The present administration plans to complete the civic improvement program before relying wholly on the utilities for operating revenues.

Major accomplishments of the city in the past five years, without a tax rise, or increase in total taxable value, and with one-third reductions in water and light rates, include, in addition to the city hall, the following: a $50,000 light and power house, two fire substations costing about $16,000 each, 17 concrete bridges at $25,000, a $55,000 Diesel engine generator unit in the power house, a $35,000 high school gymnasium and a $9000 athletic field, completion of several miles of hard surface paving for which the city's share cost more than $100,000, a hangar at the municipal airport, improvements to the water and sewer systems representing $70,000, purchase a county fair site.

The lighting plant is now capable of caring for the growing demand for electric service for several years, officials state. The net revenues from its operation hereafter will be wholly transferred to the city's general fund, with the exception of a depreciation reserve fund. The municipal utilities pay no taxes.

The electric plant is entirely unencumbered and officials plan to keep it so, though a financial house has made a standing offer to lend any amount up to $500,000, taking a mortgage on the electric system at 6 per cent for four years. With the exception of $25,000 in bonds voted 25 years ago and retired eight years ago, the plant has been built up from its own revenues to a value estimated at $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

Rates for utility service in Denton are declared to be lower than in any other Texas city of its size, and no charge is made for sewer service which, at rates prevailing elsewhere, would total about $17,000, it is estimated by W. N. Harris, city engineer.

Mr. Harris also points out that at present if the water, light and sewer systems were privately owned, the city tax rate would have to be raised 80 cents, or 40 per cent. This estimate is based on the service given free by the utilities which would have to be purchased if they were privately owned, together with net revenues from the systems. Maintenance of the sewer department is paid out of water and light funds.

Receipts of the Denton water and light department during 1928-29 were $171,692.50; operating revenues, $67,138.62. Of the net revenues, more than $40,500 was transferred to other city funds and the remainder placed in permanent improvements to the electric system. These revenues, augmented by a part of the revenues for the current year, provided for almost complete rehabilitation of the plant.

If you enter a telephone booth and see the word "ikonophone" on the wall instead of the regular nickel, dime and quarter instrument, you will know you are in a television booth, and if you watch the space immediately below the Russian sounding word, you will presently see a talking movie of the person you called. There will be no apparatus of any kind in the booth which is lighted by a dim orange light. A blue light which you hardly notice, shines on your face, and through a neon filled tube in the wall, the current is transmitted as a picture of you. Two-way television has become an accomplished fact.—St. Nicholas Magazine.

HOOVER OPPOSES
PURCHASE OF MORE
WHEAT BY BOARD

Washington, July 15.—President Hoover intends to let the Federal Farm Board deal with the wheat market crisis in its own way, without any intervention from him. Furthermore, he is in agreement with the board's judgment in refusing to buy a large quantity of wheat at this time for the purpose of stabilizing the price.

This was made plain at the White House today, after Senator Henry Allen, (Rep.) of Kansas, had asked the President to order the Farm Board to purchase immediately 100,000,000 bushels of wheat and after his colleague, Senator Capper, had issued a statement containing a similar appeal. No such order will be issued.

It was pointed out at the White House that the purchase of such a quantity of wheat by the Board probably would have no tendency to raise the market price unless the wheat thus purchased was destroyed, because the existence of the vast surplus in the hands of one buyer would remain a constant threat to the market, and the first effort to sell any of it probably would break the price.

Moreover, 100,000,000 bushels of wheat would cost about $85,000,000 and that expenditure would impose a strain on the Board's resources necessitating abandonment of its activities in many other fields.

It is admitted that the Board's previous efforts to peg the price by buying in the open market was a failure. It now has on its hands about 60,000,000 bushels of wheat for which it paid $1.15 to $1.25 a bushel. If this wheat were sold now the board would take a loss of about $25,000,000. Meantime it is paying storage charges on it.

Further large purchasers of wheat by farm board agencies were also held by Secretary Hyde to be impracticable. After a conference with President Hoover, the Agriculture Secretary said he expected no change in the policies of the board toward the wheat situation at this time. He expressed the view that no government agency could continue to absorb successive surpluses.

It was the purpose of the machinery set up, he said, to absorb an occasional depressing surplus to aid producers, but, he added, successive purchasing of surplus crops would provide no means, or time, or place of disposition for the wheat held. He asserted the remedy lies in orderly marketing by co-operatives.

President Hoover was told today by Senator Capper, that purchase of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat by the Grain Stabilization Corporation would be a determining factor in relieving the crisis in the West. Capper said if the low wheat prices continued into the winter efforts would be made in Congress to revive the equalization fee principle which was vetoed by President Coolidge. Many persons in the West still lean toward either that or the debenture plan, he said.

Capper said he could not see that curtailment of acreage as advocated by Chairman Legge in the Farm Board would affect the immediate situation. He added he was interested primarily in emergency measures to relieve the present crisis as a result of the break in wheat prices.

Capper said he did not see how the government could lose by buying the wheat at the present price.

"I cannot conceive of wheat prices not going up in the next few months," the Kansas Senator said.

The Senator discussed the wheat situation for almost an hour with the chief executive. He said he found Mr. Hoover deeply interested in the problem and sympathetic with the plight of the wheat farmer. He expects to confer with Chairman Legge of the Board when the latter returns Monday.

An interesting development in the situation is a new tendency at the White House to place on Congress responsibility for the board's policies. As is known, the farm bill was enacted virtually in the form dictated by President Hoover, and over the protest of the farm bloc in Congress, which preferred the debenture plan. It has been customary to refer to the President's Farm Board, since he appointed all its members.

Recently, however, pains have been taken at the White House to emphasize that the board is operating under the terms of an act passed by Congress, and that hence its policies were laid down by Congress, and that if they fail, Congress will be blamed.

ELDER JOHN B. HUFFMAN WILL PREACH IN PARK SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Elder John B. Huffman, who for nearly 20 years was in the newspaper business in Skeston, announces that he will preach in the stand in Malone Park Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night, July 19th and 20th, respectively.

Saturday evening his subject will be from the gospel of St. John, 13th chapter and 35th verse, "By this shall men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another." Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and also Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, he will preach at both services on what might be termed "The Signs of the Times" or "But as the Days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of Man be". Elder Huffman will show what is wrong with the country; that it is not prohibition nor licensed saloons or anything of that kind, but fulfillment of prophecy; that if we believe the Bible, we can see that we are living in the last days of the Gentile dispensation and the days prophesied before the coming of the Son of Man; that it is now just exactly as the Bible said it would be.

GEORGIA METHODISTS REQUEST BISHOP CANNON TO RESIGN

The Quarterly Conference of the First M. E. Church at Newman, Ga., last week, passed resolutions demanding the resignation of Bishop James J. Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The action of the Church Conference in adopting the resolution asking the Virginia Bishop to resign is said to be the first time in Methodism that the laity has dared to attack a Bishop.

The following are reasons given by this Church Conference for asking Bishop Cannon's resignation:

First—"Irreparable evil done to the Church and cause of Christianity by his efforts to put the church in partisan politics".

Second—"Bishop Cannon's action as lobbyist and his evasion before the Senate Lobbying Investigating Committee".

Third—"Bishop Cannon's stock market dealings are calculated to bring the church into disrepute and lessen his moral influence as a leader".

There was only one dissenting vote on the resolution.

Bishop Cannon, Jr., of the M. E. Church, who is in Washington, D. C., declined to read the resolution adopted by the First M. E. Church of Newman, Ga., demanding his resignation and refused to make any comment when it was presented to him.—Ex.

ADMINISTRATION FACES REAL CRISIS IN FARM PROGRAM

Washington, July 14.—Suddenly, over the week-end, wheat has become the most disturbing factor in National politics. Realization of the political significance of the precipitate fall in wheat prices has struck Washington all at once, and today it threatened to crowd the naval treaty off the stage as a subject of interest.

With some farm organizations clamoring for the resignation of Alexander Legge, as chairman of the Federal Farm Board, and with Senators Allen and Capper of Kansas beseeching President Hoover to order the board to purchase 100,000,000 bushels of wheat in addition to the 60,000,000 bushels it already has in storage, the administration today faces a real crisis in its farm program.

Chairman Legge has stated positively, that the board will buy no more wheat at this time to stabilize the price, and has reiterated that the crash in prices, due to over production, can only be prevented by curtailment of production through reduced planting. This advice apparently has fallen upon deaf ears among the wheat farmers of the Middle West, where Legge and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde has conducted a barnstorming tour in an effort to popularize the administration's farm program.

During a week-end visit to the President's camp on the Rapidan, Senator Allen explained the situation from the viewpoint of the Kansas farmers, and urged that the board be directed to purchase 100,000,000 more bushels of wheat to take it off the market. A similar course had already been urged by Senator Capper.

It is confidently expected here that President Hoover will reject all such appeals. Any such order from him to the board would certainly result promptly in the resignation of Legge, and probably of other members. Furthermore, the policy of Government buying to standardize prices is obnoxious to the business interests of the country, especially those of the East.

The opinion now prevails here that the Legge-Hyde tour, however, admirable its subject, was a political mistake. Instead of calming the fears of the farmers it has provoked a series of demonstrations revealing a deep and bitter dissatisfaction with the results to date of the farm relief policy. Consequently, some of the party leaders now are urging Mr. Hoover to recall Legge and Hyde before they stir up any further commotion.

Critics of the farm board blame it for the present condition of wheat prices. It is asserted that one of the main elements precipitating the price decline was the board's recent action in selling 1929 wheat which it had purchased during earlier stabilization efforts. The board explained that it would buy an equivalent amount of the year's crop.

ROBINSON SAYS TARIFF HAS FAILED TO HELP FARMERS

Washington, July 14.—Saying "the shadow of gloom still falls all over the United States", Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, expressed doubt today that the tariff and farm marketing laws would relieve the situation.

The Arkansas Senator, speaking over the National Broadcasting System, said a study of the Smoot-Hawley tariff showed it would fail in its "primary purpose" of resuscitating agriculture.

"There exists a widespread conviction", he said, "that the changes in the tariff law alleged to have been made for the benefit of agriculture, will, on the whole, work quite as much injury as it will bring benefit to the farmers".

He said the farm marketing act was still in the nature of an experiment, but added there was nothing to cause hope that it "will prove beneficial to the degree which its champions contemplated".

FARM BOARD MEMBER SAYS BREAD AT RETAIL IS TOO HIGH

Washington, July 14.—Samuel R. McKelvie, Farm Board member for wheat, said today he thought the retail price of bread was too high. Other board members recently expressed opinions the retail price of meats and fruits and vegetables should be reduced.

McKelvie said it made little difference in the retail price of bread whether the farmer received a dollar and a half or a dollar a bushel for his wheat.

"This subject is of vast importance to both the producer and consumer", he said. "The price to the farmer is too low. Therefore, if we can secure a correspondingly low price for bread and thereby enhance consumption of wheat, not only will we have benefitted the consumer but also some ultimate benefit may accrue to the producer".

MO. GAME AND FISH NEWS

With thousands of persons having already visited Missouri's State Parks since their 1930 official opening two months ago, the total number of park visitors for this year is expected to exceed the 400,000 persons who spent one or more days in the State playgrounds last year. The number of Independence Day visitors at the parks was large and these places will continue to be very popular until after labor day and even following that time those who have leisure will enjoy the parks until late fall.

Parks where the largest crowds have been in evidence include Big Springs in Carter County, Meramec in Franklin County, Montauk in Dent County, Bennett Spring in Dallas and Laclede Counties and Roaring River in Barry County. Alley Round Spring and Sam A. Baker State parks have been selected as desirable camp sites by many vacationists while picnicers have been making use of Mark Twain and Arrow Rock State Parks.

Kansas Citizens have been making use of Bennett Spring State park while Montauk, Meramec and Big Spring State Parks are each week luring hundreds of St. Louisians to the State's out-of-doors.

Turtles, which cause considerable loss to fish life each year, may be captured or killed in any manner excepting by use of traps which injure fishes. Plans for the construction of several different traps for free distribution by the Game and Fish Department. The soft shell ed and snapper turtles are the best known forms of edible turtles found in this State.

More than 400 specimens of Missouri wild life have been prepared by Ernst Schwarz, State taxidermist, for use in the exhibits which the Missouri Game and Fish Department will have at five fairs including the State Fair at Sedalia, this summer.

USE BIG HOOKS SAVE SMALL FISH

If anglers would make a practice of using large-sized fish hooks thousands of small fish would be saved, the American Game Protective Association's observers report. It is illegal to take undersized fish. Besides, the majority of fishermen do not want small fish. They are put back into the water after they are taken from the hook. Many of them die from injuries.

Those fishing with worms, meat, or live bait should use a large-sized hook so the smaller fish cannot swallow or impale themselves upon it. It is the small hook that does the damage. Fly fishermen who use small hooks are not usually troubled with small fish, for they seldom strike.

Bakersfield, Texas, populated by 1200 persons in two weeks during an oil boom, has only a general store and restaurant left.

Game shot by North Carolina hunters in 1929 was valued at $2,000,000, the State Department of Conservation and Development found.

MILLIONS OF FISH SAVED BY WET HANDS

Millions of small fish may be saved this summer to grow into large fish if anglers will follow one simple rule—wet the hands thoroughly when taking little fish off the hook preparatory to releasing them back to the waters Carlos Avery, president of the American Game Protective Association, said here today. "Of course the small fish should be handled gently and released under water, not thrown back. A dry hand disturbs the protective film of the fish. If this is broken, fungi attaches to the body of the fish and eventually kills it. Thousands of anglers that have been wetting their hands, declare that millions of small fish have already been saved by this practice."

The Only Speed Truck with TWO Complete Power Ranges

This Six-Speed Special
Truck will outpull, out-

NO other truck is like the Six-Speed Special. It has a 2-speed rear axle, giving it six speeds forward and two reverse—two complete ranges of power. By shifting a lever you can use the full power of the rugged engine to get you through slow, tough going, or to give you fast, time-and-money-saving speed on hard roads.

The Six-Speed Special has everything else you would expect of a truck of this kind. Four-wheel brakes, a heavy-duty pressed-steel chassis, long, alloy-steel springs. Bodies for all kinds of loads may be obtained.

DITCH DRAINING FOR IRRIGATION SAKE

A new era of farming seems to be in vogue in Southeast Missouri. Due to the dry weather of late, several farmers of this region have gotten upon the idea of damming up the drainage ditches in order that they may have a little more moisture for their respective crops.

The general idea is just this, so one of the informed related to The Standard today. The ditch is dammed up by sand bags and the like and naturally the water rises. This raises the water line in the adjoining fields and the corn or other crops present are given additional moisture. This enables the crop to draw from the ground instead of depending on surface water for its supply of moisture.

If the ditch fills up enough to back the water up in the fields, the surface irrigation will be possible and that will serve the same purpose as a general rain, of course only a few will get the benefit of the dammed ditch.

This is being tried by several Sikeston farmers and, so they think, will be somewhat of a salvation for their crops.

GEOLOGIST SPEAKS IN MALONE PARK TUESDAY

M. McCurdy, geologist, out of St. Louis, will make a talk from the band stand in Malone Park, Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock. His talk will probably be on the subject of "oil" in Southeast Missouri. While in The Standard office Tuesday, Mr. McCurdy stated there had never yet been a test well sunk anywhere in Missouri by a real oil driller and that large acreages in the State denoted oil. The same formation from Northeast to Southwest through all States from New York to Texas and Old Mexico was noted in Missouri. The Himmel well, Mr. McCurdy stated had never been sunk deeper than 1300 feet and was drowned out by the water which an experienced oil man would have shut off.

We are not advised as to the object of his talk, but it will cost nothing to turn out and hear him.

MISS DRINKWATER TO BE GUEST OF LIONS

The Sikeston Lions Club are expecting Miss Drinkwater of Charleston to be their guest of honor at their regular weekly meeting of next week. Miss Drinkwater has spent a year and a half studying in Italy and is a very able and interesting talker. She was invited to attend the meeting of this week, but was detained elsewhere.

The Yard and Garden Contest has been slowed up a bit due to the extreme dryness of the past month, however, the Lions Club feel as tho' the progress that has been lost by the dry weather will soon be regained when the gardens are rejuvenated by a refreshing shower, if we ever get one. The selecting of the most beautiful gardens in the different classes has been deferred until a later date, in order that the flowers and grass may stage a come-back.

All members are requested to be present to hear Miss Drinkwater as she is referred to as a very interesting conversationalist.

DEXTER SCHOOL REMODELING WELL UNDERWAY

The remodeling and the addition to the Dexter school system is getting well under way by this time. The remodeling is taking place at the high school. The old building is being remade into an auditorium and a gymnasium. The new addition that is being constructed at the high school will consist of thirteen rooms, twelve class rooms and one study hall.

The building is being constructed of red brick and the total cost for the new addition and for the remodeling will be around $18,000. The Standard was informed that it would be completed by the time that the school opened in the middle of the coming September.

Smith, colored, aged 30 years of

Camp at Windyville, near East Prairie. The negroes had a poker game Saturday at noon, playing for cigarettes. A dispute arose, but was thought to be all settled. That night near midnight, as Smith lay asleep in his tent, Palmer slipped into his tent, and using a chopping ax, split Smith's head wide open. Sheriff Jackson of this city was notified and began search for Palmer, who escaped, following the killing. Deputy

BILLION DOLLARS

That is the estimated value of 22
alleged "estates" around which are formed scores of so-called "Heirs Associations" in many different parts of
the country.

These associations are organized
for the purpose of pressing possible
legal claims to property located in the heart of New York or other populous centers. Thousands of people presumed to be heirs have donated
vast sums of money for many years
to these associations.

Recently two men in two widely separated States were indicted for using the United States Mails in a scheme to defraud. These indictments were in connection with two of these associations claiming property value at $407,000,000.

Making Ford Steel Is Dramatic Process

This scene from the motion picture of a tour through the Ford plant shows one of the huge ladles from which molten steel is poured into the ingot moulds to be formed into ingots.
The moulds can be seen on the little cars made up into what the steel workers call "buggy trains." A train takes the entire heat from an open hearth furnace to the soaking pit building where a crane lifts the ingots from the moulds four at a time.

The motion picture, which depicts the manufacture of the Ford from the production of raw materials to the finished car, is being exhibited in the Ford show.

GREAT COLE BROS. CIRCUS IS COMING

The Great Cole Bros. World Touring Circus now on its 49th Annual Trans-Continental tour will exhibit in Sikeston Friday, August 1. Hailed with delight by the juvenile populace and the "older" boys and girls, the coming of this well known and honorably conducted circus is always looked upon as an annual festive holiday. Cole Bros., instead of operating two distinct shows as in other seasons have combined their interests for 1930 into one big, mammoth tented institution.

Features, novelties, curiosities and oddities gathered from all sections of the world form this season's program for the Cole Bros. Circus. Foremost among the stellar artists will be Crandell Troupe of English riders; the Perez-Lader family of Spanish equestrians and acrobats; Cadieux, a French somersaulting dancer on the tight wire; the Collings, Belgian mid-air gymnasts; Mons. Wallitti who stands on his head in a lofty trapeze; the Clarksonian, European foot jugglers together with more than two scores of artists famed in the annals of the white tops.

Cole Bros. great herds of performing elephants with Modoc, the largest pachyderm in captivity with his new Charleston dance novelty; the society horse show; the balloon ponies; scores of educated Shetland ponies; dogs and monkeys all are again featured. It has been the history of the Cole Bros. World Touring Circus never to repeat its novelties and this year an entire new program is ordered.

A glimpse of the Cole Bros. Circus' constant growth and improvement will be seen in the immense and spectacular street parade to be seen on the downtown streets at noon. There will be trumpeting bands, tooting calliopes, cumbersome elephants and humping camels. Rumbling wagons of red and gold, allegorical floats and magnificent tableau wagons will all be seen in the spectacular line of march. There will be two performances at 2 and 8 p. m. The doors opening an hour earlier.

LET'S STOP BEING SILLY

A few weeks ago the Better Business Bureau had occasion to gather together some evidence of so-called "super-advertising". Here are some of the examples:

"The Greatest Offering Ever Made in the History of . . ."

"Biggest Furniture Values . . . has ever seen."

"Greatest Sale Ever."

"Bought For Next to Nothing."

Such statements are not convincing and we doubt if they are effective. Some are amusing and therefore not so very harmful. They all occupied costly white space, which might better have been used to describe quality or utility.

The public is not too credulous. Readers discount such claims because they are unbelievable. As a consequence they question all advertising to some degree.

The advertiser who thinks he can deceive the public, not only deceives himself but injures his prestige and interferes with the rights of every other advertiser.

To be effective advertising must be believed.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY CAPE GIRARDEAU SHOW

Residents of Sikeston and this county will have an opportunity to "visit" the great plants of the Ford Motor Company through the medium of a sound motion picture to be exhibited in Cape Girardeau next week, Scott County Motor Co., local Ford dealer, announced today.

The movie will be a part of a Ford show to be held beginning Monday and continuing through Wednesday in a large tent on the lot at Sprigg & Themis Streets, Cape Girardeau. The show will be open to the public free of charge from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. each day.

Those who visit the show will be able to learn not only how the Ford automobile is manufactured in quantity production, but to obtain some idea of the vastness of the Ford enterprises, Earl Johnson of the Scott County Motor Co., pointed out. They will see how coal and iron are obtained from Ford-owned mines and transported to the plants on Dearborn, Mich., in Ford-owned railroad cars; how lumber is cut in the Ford forests and carried in Ford lake ships, and how in the manufacture of the car various by-products are utilized for making fertilizer, charcoal briquets, chemicals and other things.

Besides the motion picture, the show will include a number of special exhibits revealing step by step how various parts of the car are made, a cut-away truck chassis, and a Tudor body cut in half to reveal the details of its construction.

A feature of the show will be a display of the full line of Ford passenger and commercial cars.

Arrangements for the show were made by the local dealer in co-operation with Ford dealers in nearby towns and the St. Louis branch of the Ford Motor Company.

SOUTHEAST MISSOURI NORTHEAST ARKANSAS

The extreme hot, dry weather prevailing in this section has been unfavorable to all crop development. The mercury has registered above the 100 degree mark all week, with the high record of 112 degrees registered at Sikeston. Moisture is deficient, being only about 62 per cent of normal, and the sub-soil moisture is as low as ever known in most of this section. Corn, hay, cowpeas, soybeans and all truck crops are suffering for rain. Cotton seems to be holding its own, but needs rain. The appearance of red spiders is reported in a few sections of Mississippi County, Ark., but as yet no serious damage has been done. No other damage from diseases or insects reported. The outlook for all crops except cotton is discouraging at this time.

Construction of bridge on State Highway No. 4 between Luray and Granger, nearing completion. Three pine nuts a day and water is the diet on which a Korean hermit hopes to live for at least 200 years. The tropical forests of Brazil are peopled by wild races who have seldom if ever seen a white man. White men going into the forests cut lanes through the undergrowth from the camp into the forest. Every half-mile or so along these trails presents are hung on the trees with messages telling of more desirable gifts nearer the camp.
